

3 Tupamaros Die In Uruguay Raid

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Three women guerrillas of the Tupamaro terrorist organization were killed and two military officers wounded in a weekend gunfight here, authorities said Monday night.

Informed sources said a police agent also was killed.

A communique read over the national radio and television network said the shootout took place Sunday during a police search through a suburban neighborhood.

Authorities also reported finding in a secret basement hideout "a great store of arms, ammunition and equipment used in falsifying documents."
